Chautemps Now Trying to Form French Cabinet

Premier Whose Government Fell Friday Takes Task After Blum Fails

Limited Exchange Dealings Allowed

PARIS (CP-Havas) — Camille Chautemps, whose government resigned last Friday, today agreed "in principle" to attempt the formation of a new cabinet.

The Radical-Socialist former premier was called to the Elysee Palace by President Lebrun after Leon Blum, leader of the Socialists, largest party in the Chamber of Deputies, had failed in an effort to form a cabinet which would have included the centre, as well as the three parties of the Leftist Popular Front—Socialists, Radical-Socialists, and Communists.

M. Chautemps rushed to the presidential palace just a half hour after M. Blum had renounced the premiership with a declaration that "I want neither a day nor even an hour lost to the country for my personal satisfaction."

M. Chautemps accepted "in principle" President Lebrun's charge to form a new government. Once since the crisis began he had declined the mission, but he agreed to sound the possibilities of liquidating the situation after M. Blum's failure had aggravated its gravity.

EXCHANGE MARKET

The Bank of France permitted resumption of foreign exchange dealings which were suspended Friday, but ruled that transactions must be limited to legitimate business requirements.

With speculative selling of francs prohibited, the market range was narrow. The franc was quoted by banks this morning at 30.30 to the dollar as compared with the official Bourse closing last Thursday of 29.93 to the dollar.

When M. Blum announced his failure to form a cabinet, the Communist Party issued a statement which said:

"The formation of the government envisaged by M. Blum was rendered impossible by demands of Paul Reynaud (former Finance Minister and moderate centrist), who wanted to impose the presence in the cabinet of elements linked with terror and Fascism."

The Communists declared they had supported M. Blum's plan under the condition that the new

REBATES SOON ON INCOME TAX

Payroll Returns From Firms Invited This Month By Tax Department

The provincial income tax department will start shortly paying refunds from the biggest income tax collection in British Columbia history.

Payroll lists from employers which are used to check up rebates have been invited by the department this month. While the deadline for these is not until February 28, the earlier they were filed after the end of last year the sooner rebates for employees will be available. Personal returns by wage-earners are also due February 28.

Income tax officials said today that rebates would be made as soon as both employer and employee returns are entered. The wage-earner applies for rebates out of the 1 per cent deducted from his cheques, and when his application is checked up with the firm's return the rebate will be made.

Business and professional men and corporations do not have to file returns until March 31. They do not get rebates but pay their tax in a lump sum at the time of filing.

With two and a half months of the fiscal year to go, the collection of income taxes during 1937-38 is not announced, but all indications are it will reach a new record. In fiscal 1936-37 the income and personal property taxes produced $6,777,424. The estimate for the current year is $6,200,000, but in the first half of the year the estimate was exceeded by far.

Japanese Move Against Canton

Beulah on Beam Ends After Salvage Attempt

Six-inch manila hawsers snapped like twine when the strain was at its greatest as the forepart of Ms. Beulah rose to the action of the suction pumps used in Saturday night's unsuccessful salvage attempt, and the ship keeled over and remained in the position seen above. In order to right the vessel it will be necessary to pass cables beneath the hull to the port rail and provide a purchase from dolphins driven on the starboard side. It will be several days before the next attempt is made to raise the Beulah.

Big Gain In Prepaid Taxes

Advance Collections Up to January 15 Approximately $29,000 Over 1937

Advance collection of city taxes for the first 15 days of January stood $28,963.16 above those for the similar period last year, figures released by the city assessor-collector today showed.

The total up to and including Saturday was $215,313.20, against $186,350.04 for the same part of 1937.

An interest allowance at the rate of 5 per cent per annum from the date of payment to October 1 is allowed on all current taxes paid in advance.

In the arrears section collections for the first 15 days this year were $3,412.10 lower than those of 1937, the totals being $5,165.02 up to Saturday, against $8,577.22 last year.

Fewer arrears collections are expected by the assessor-collector this year in view of the fact a smaller amount is outstanding. Last year, in addition to the regular amount of unpaid taxes, the 15-year consolidated arrears were also closed out, raising the annual total collections considerably.

License Notices For Cars in Mail

All automobiles in British Columbia must carry 1938 license plates by March 1, motor-license branch officials announced today as they worked on the job of mailing out thousands of license notices to car owners.

The task of licensing the cars this year is the biggest it has ever been. Some 112,000 notices are going into the mails, the largest number on record. It will take about a week to get them all posted.

Valera's Desire to End Partition Is Voiced to Chamberlain

LONDON (CP) — The Anglo-Irish talks were sharply at issue tonight over the partition of Ireland as the first conversations between leaders of the two countries came to a close.

Before the Irish delegation, headed by Prime Minister de Valera arrived at Downing Street, the British ministers—Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, Dominion's Secretary Malcolm MacDonald and Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary—had met for a final review of the situation. Similarly, in his hotel, Mr. de Valera conferred with his own cabinet colleagues.

A cheer went up from the crowd as Mr. de Valera's car turned swiftly from Whitehall into Old Downing Street, Downing Street had all the air of a cabinet crisis. The pavement was packed by an eager crowd. Special police lined the sidewalks to prevent a rush.

The delegates lunched at No. 11, official residence of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon.

As the talks began it was realized that success of the conversations would turn largely on the opening day. If the partition between Ulster, the six counties in the north, and the 26 southern counties which make up Eire, or Ireland (formerly

Rowell Commission Is Told Canada Needs to Regulate Borrowing

OTTAWA (CP) — The Rowell commission resumed its study of Dominion-provincial financial arrangements here today with consideration of a brief presented by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, commission chairman, lost no time in calling for the association, once he and his four fellow commissioners had taken their places.

W. D. Black, first vice-president of the C.M.A., appeared before the commission.

"The terms of your reference give you power to deal with many subjects of vital importance to us, not only as manufacturers, but also as citizens of Canada," he said. "Consequently we have every reason to help up to the best of our ability."

Mr. Black said, regarding the suggestion for joint control and regulation of borrowing, that "those who loaned their savings to provinces and municipalities did not really think of them as separate entities."

"Although there were no contracted obligations, many of these lenders really thought of the provinces and municipalities

ABITIBI SALE PLAN VETOED

Ontario Judge Declines to Approve Scheme For Ontario Power Company

TORONTO (CP) — The giant power and pulpwood empire of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company Ltd. in northern Ontario stayed today in a state of financial uncertainty after an Ontario Supreme Court judge in a written judgment had dismissed a motion for steps to enable its reorganization.

The Montreal Trust Company, acting for a group of bondholders of the company, now in receivership, asked in a motion before Mr. Justice Charles McTaggart for approval of the Ripley plan, a proposal to sell the company's assets to a company to be formed, these assets being now covered by a $50,000,000 bond mortgage.

The motion was dismissed chiefly because the court found the Judicature Amendment Act, 1935, Ontario, under which the motion was brought, was not applicable to Abitibi, the company being federally chartered. The court said the end sought could have been obtained under federal legislation.

House Asked to Vote $553,266,494, Which Is $26,723,186 Above This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives appropriations committee today recommended a $553,266,494 appropriation to finance the United States Navy in the coming fiscal year—an increase of $26,723,186 over the current year.

Although the total was $11,139,967 less than the budget requested, it would permit start of construction of 22 new ships—two battleships to cost $70,850,300 each; two cruisers, eight destroyers, six submarines and four auxiliary vessels.

In addition, the committee recommended funds to continue construction of more than 70 ships already under way. The total for both continuing and new construction is $138,063,157, a reduction of $9,636,850 from the budget estimates.

The proposed construction may be expanded substantially as a result of a message President Roosevelt is expected to send to Congress in the near future outlining plans for strengthening the fleet in the light of world conditions which he said were causing him "growing concern."

MORE TORPEDOS

The committee, in reporting the bill to the House, made no reference to the international situation, but some of the items as approved, in addition to new ship construction, appeared significant.

One was $1,277,000 to reopen the torpedo manufacturing plant at Alexandria, Va., to supplement the output of the torpedo plant

War Stops New Year Fun In Chinatown

Too Busy Helping Native Land For Any Frivolous Celebrations

There will be no popping of firecrackers or feasting on sweetmeats January 31, which is Chinese New Year. All celebrations have been canceled, Chinese in Victoria stated today.

Instead there will be burning of joss in the temples in Chinatown, and meetings to discuss the war in the Orient.

Victoria Chinese are directing their money and energy to aid their native land and have no time for frivolous festivities this year, they said.

Already they have sent almost $100,000 Chinese money—approximately $30,000 in Canadian money—to the national salvation and refugee fund, according to Mah Leung who is in charge of the fund.

Though contributions will continue to this fund, the Chinese are devoting their time to selling the government's "Liberty" bonds which have been issued to finance the defence.

About $1,500,000 in Chinese money is expected by the sale of these bonds in Canada. Victoria's share will be $150,000, Mr. Mah Leung says.

Many Acclamations In Municipal Lists

No Oak Bay Election and Fewer Contests in Esquimalt and Saanich

Absence of an election in Oak Bay, where all present incumbents were returned and acclamations for Saanich School Board candidates and councillors in Wards Two, Four and Six, acclamation for Reeve Alexander Lockley and three councillors in Esquimalt and a contest for the Saanich reeveship between William Crouch, seeking his twelfth consecutive term, and John Watson, retiring councillor of Ward One, were assumed today with the closing of nominations for the municipal elections to be held next Saturday.

Fields in Saanich and Esquimalt are generally small, and there are no major issues to be debated during the campaigns, outside of the new water scheme in Saanich, decision on which has been left to the incoming council.

In Saanich there are 17 candidates for nine seats, which will be contested, including two for the reeveship, two for councillor in Ward One, two for councillor in Ward Three, three for councillor in Ward Five, two for councillor in Ward Seven and two for police commissioner and four for three school board seats.

In Esquimalt there are six candidates for four vacancies, four for three school board seats, and two for one police commissioner seat. Thomas Hadfield, only one of three retiring councillors to enter his papers, was returned to the council by acclamation along with two newcomers to the municipal field.

Today marked the thirteenth consecutive year in which an Oak Bay reeve was given acclamation. The last time there was an election contest for any office in the municipality was in January, 1936. For several years before that, and ever since, there have been no contests for any vacancies.

OAK BAY
Only one new face will appear on municipal boards of Oak Bay during the coming year. That will be Colin H. Rutherford, who will take S. J. Drake's seat on the school board.

London Pianist Is Heard Here

Dr. Anderson Tyrer De-lighted Musical Gathering Saturday Night

The Oak Bay Beach Hotel afforded gracious surroundings for a charming recital arranged by Mrs. W. A. Jameson and given by Dr. Anderson Tyrer of Trinity College, London. Dr. Tyrer, who has been in the city conducting examinations for the last few days, demonstrated an artistry in solo performance wholly captivating to his audience.

In an introductory talk he spoke of the wide influence of Trinity College, particularly its value in examination and its high standard of work. Education was concerned not only with natural ability, but he intimated, it was most strongly allied with good innate culture where it touched music and the other arts.

Following his brief talk, Dr. Tyrer showed himself to be a genuinely sensitive musician, with limitless ideas and a warmth of musical message. Beginning his programme with a Bach "Chaconne," arranged by Busoni, his scholarly approach was most apparent. The two numbers, following, "Soliloquy" and "Reflexes," written by Debussy, brought an atmosphere of delicacy, a little wistful and a subtle painting of pastels. It completed an understanding not often heard of the musician, Debussy, with his sudden shifts of shadow, his quickly varying moods. The little group was capped with the familiar and interesting bit of brilliance, the Moszkowski "Etincelles." The final group of the programme included several requested Chopin numbers. Dr. Tyrer's portrait of Chopin was particularly appealing in an "Introduction to Theme and Variations," a work not often heard in spite of its interesting changes; D Flat Nocturne and the C sharp and B Flat Etudes.

At the close of the informal programme F. T. C. Wickert proposed a vote of thanks for a "genuinely masterful performance."

The committee entertained Dr. Tyrer and Mrs. Tyrer at supper in the hotel dining room, where about 100 guests were present.

Seattle Death Is Investigated

Mrs. V. Sarver Drank Poison During Party at Her Home

SEATTLE (AP)—Chief Deputy Coroner Harlan S. Callahan today was investigating the death of Mrs. Ronnie Sarver, 36, during a party at her home.

Callahan said Mrs. Sarver, who had been assisting her husband in entertaining their guests, suddenly excused herself early Sunday and went into an adjoining room, where she drank poison.

Hearing her screams, her husband, Van Sarver, and the guests ran into the room and found her lying on the floor, a broken bottle beside her. She died without regaining consciousness.

Callahan said her husband could give no reason for her act.

Alberta Court Test Completed

Supreme Canadian Tribunal Reserves Judgment on Constitutional Questions

OTTAWA (CP)—Hearing of the Alberta constitutional reference by the Supreme Court of Canada concluded today.

O. M. Biggar, Alberta counsel, concluded his argument in support of the validity of the three Alberta statutes just before noon, and brief statements by opposing counsel for the Dominion Government, the banks and the newspapers brought the hearing to a close.

The court was reserving decision, Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff announced.

Just a week ago the court reserved decision on the first of the two references as to the powers of the Governor-General to disallow and the Lieutenant-Governor to reserve Alberta legislation for signification of the Governor-General's pleasure. The hearing which ended today was on the validity of bills relating to bank taxation, credit regulation and newspapers.

FACTUM PROTESTED

In his closing argument, Col. Biggar renewed his protest at the submission of arguments seeking to show Alberta Social Credit legislation generally was inspired by some illegal or improper motive.

He objected to matter submitted in the Dominion Government factum dealing with speeches by members of the Alberta cabinet and Legislature, extracts from books, evidence given before committees of the Legislature and statutes other than those before the court. He said he wished to renew a motion he had made early in the hearing for a ruling from the court as to the relevancy of such material.

None of it, he argued, had any bearing on the questions before the court, which were the competence of the Alberta Legislature to enactment of the three bills.

POLITICAL ARGUMENT

Mr. Biggar then set out to answer what he termed "the public welfare" arguments of the opponents of the bills. The court had been told it should hold the bills bad because they would be injurious to the public.

Such arguments, he contended, were political rather than legal and should not be addressed to a court. The questions should be approached from a "purely legal and juridical point of view whatever opinions we may hold as individuals or otherwise on the wisdom of the legislation."

It was not necessary to go outside the bank taxation measure to ascertain its meaning or intention, said Mr. Biggar. It was perfectly clear and so no other statute need be looked at.

It was not a tax on the capital of banks, he continued. It was a tax on banks operating in Alberta, computed in relation to bank capital.

DIRECT TAXATION

The tax was a direct tax and not indirect, as had been contended by W. N. Tilley, counsel for the banks, said Mr. Biggar. It was true some of it might be passed on to the bank customers, but that was true of every direct tax to some extent. To ascertain whether there would be any passing on would require an investigation into the whole business of banking. Without going into that all the court could do was look at the tax to see if it was to be paid in the first instance by the banks.

Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff said Mr. Biggar was putting his argument pretty broadly. He asked what would be said about a tax of 10 per cent or 100 per cent on capital.

"After all," he said, "there are certain facts of life of which the court cannot be ignorant."

government apply the People's Front programme. They asserted that "the only possible solution of the ministerial crisis is the constitution of a government in the image of the People's Front."

M. Blum had agreed to try to form a government shortly after retiring Finance Minister Georges Bonnet had given up his attempts to do so when Socialists refused to support him.

M. Blum had planned "a national concentration around the Popular Front," and had said: "I would like a national concentration to be made effective by collaboration among representatives of all parties adhering to the Popular Front and men who have belonged up to the present to the opposition, but who are known for their attachment to democratic liberties."

at Newport, R.I. The committee said the Newport factory was of three shifts, but would be able to produce only about half the necessary quantity for the next six years.

The committee also reversed its previous stand by recommending the recommissioning of the ammunition ship Pyro at a cost of about $435,200. Funds for this purpose were refused last year.

In one of the few instances where it increased amounts requested by the budget, the committee recommended $3,000,000 for purchase of strategic minerals, whereas the budget asked only $500,000.

MANUFACTURERS' VIEWS HEARD

as parts of the Dominion of Canada.

CONFIDENCE NEEDED

If the confidence of lenders was to be maintained the credit of the Dominion, of the provinces and the municipalities must be safeguarded, and it seemed reasonable to think that this would be done better by collective understanding than by independent action, he said.

Chairman Rowell asked for more detail as to how that joint control might operate.

Mr. Black felt that where the Dominion was assisting the provinces there should be some understanding between municipalities, provinces and the Dominion regarding borrowings. However, the association preferred to leave it to financial experts to determine how that might be worked out, he said.

Provincial statutes which tended to operate as provincial tariffs were criticised, with New Brunswick cited as an example. However, H. W. Macdonnell told the commission practically all provinces had taxes of the sort.

Commissioner H. F. Angus suggested these measures might be adopted to obtain a share of the profits of corporations having head offices in other provinces, rather than being aimed at encouragement of local businesses.

CUT ON OUTLAYS

The Manufacturers' Association's brief argued that if government expenditures were reduced 10 or 20 per cent, many of today's pressing problems would disappear. On the other hand, an entirely new constitution for the country would merely reproduce present conditions "if public expenditures and consequently taxes continued to increase."

The association urged a simpler and more equitable tax system, for efficiency and economy.

"The ideal system of taxation from industry's point of view would be one providing for the raising of the necessary revenue by means of a minimum number of taxes collected by a minimum number of agencies, preferably one," it stated. A number of specific recommendations in that direction, including one income tax and one sales tax were advanced.

In the fiscal year ending with June 26,505,943 long tons of cargo were carried by ships passing through the Panama Canal, a gain of 1,603,000 long tons from the preceding fiscal year.

Aurora Interferes With Prairie Wires

Great Display Disrupts Telegraph Service Between Great Lakes and Rockies

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wire communications throughout the prairies were disrupted today by the antics of the aurora borealis, whose rays shot down from the magnetic pole and paralyzed telegraph wires from the head of the Great Lakes to the Rockies.

The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National telegraph services lost western circuits early this morning. Wires running to the south were plugged also by the current from the magnetic pole which, telegraph wire chiefs said, reached "100 miles on prairie wires."

Movement of news over the Canadian Press circuits was delayed and telephone companies also reported their wires blocked by the phenomenon.

SEATTLE (AP)—The United States Signal Corps Alaska communications system said today a brilliant aurora borealis display had disrupted short wave wireless connections with all but Ketchikan since early Sunday. The display was blamed on sunspots.

The United States weather bureau was unable to receive its morning reports from Alaska stations.

Southeast storm warnings flew along the Washington and Oregon coasts. More rain and moderate temperatures were forecast.

Girl Who Helped Save Others Dies of Burns

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Helen Sullivan, 26-year-old hotel telephone operator, who remained at her switchboard, arousing guests until her dress caught fire, died today of burns suffered in the Hotel Plaza fire, which took three other lives nearly three weeks ago.

She was forced to run through a wall of flame to escape from the building.

Trial to Follow Long Inquiry

Seattle Police Charge B. Piles in Los Angeles; Auto Killed Man 12 Years Ago

SEATTLE (AP)—Prosecutor B. Gray Warner said today he had asked Los Angeles police to arrest Ross Bernard Piles, son of former United States Senator Samuel H. Piles, on a charge of manslaughter as the climax of a 12-year-old investigation of the hit-and-run death of Joseph Makinson, street car motorman.

Traffic Capt. Joseph E. Prince accused Piles of being the driver of the automobile which struck Makinson and left him dying in the street August 8, 1925.

Piles has been living in Hollywood, where he is in the bond and real estate business, Prince said.

ARMY SQUAD

Proving the contended theory you can toss the oval around with cheerful abandon and still play good rugby, Bert Buller, J.B.A.A. fifteen used this method of draping the Garrison on the goalposts for a 29 to 0 win Saturday at Macdonald Park.

Buzz Brown led the lively afternoon scoring spree with 14 points. Clicking on nearly every play the oarsmen turned in a brilliant performance. In two out of every three attempts their inside passing and cut-in plays were good for plenty of yardage if not a try, and the army was hopelessly outclassed from the start.

The rowing club men ran through a weak Garrison defence time after time on wide-open play with Brown converting four of six tries, kicking a penalty and crashing over once himself. The forwards were equally good in the loose and in the pack, and although the oarsmen used a seven-man scrum to the Garrison's eight, young Doug Bray out-hooked Montgomery all afternoon.

Bridge opened the scoring and Brown converted. A penalty kick raised the ante to eight points and then Cyril Doheny and Bridge went over again before the interval. Halkett, Brown and Bray scored in the final session.

Benny McMillan refereed. The teams were: J.B.A.A. — Ferguson, Smith, Simpson, C. Doheny, Bridge, Halkett, Brown, Stipe, Collier, Daltell, Rutten, F. Doheny, Russell, Bray and Blair.

Garrison — Green, Buxton, Carson, Ford, Wood, Martin, Pocock, Hall, Montgomery, Rasmussen, Polinsky, Cockrell, Patterson, Hatch and Lea.

WANDERERS WIN
Victoria College was jolted out of their winning complex 6 to 0 by the Oak Bay Wanderers in an intermediate fixture on the lower field while University School scheduled to make their debut against the Navy at the Mount Tolmie grounds won by default when the sailors could not field a team.

College managed to stave off defeat until the second half and then the Wanderers went over with Harman and Davies scoring.

GARRISON WINS
In a strenuous senior B match yesterday a heavier Garrison team defeated the Canadian Scottish 3 to 0. The score came half way through the final session resulting from a pile-up.

President McKinley, which is taking out a full cargo and a light cabin list, will embark one passenger at the Rithet Docks here, George S. Barlow of Canadian National Railways, who is going through to Singapore.

Nearing the coast on her inbound trip from the Orient, Ss. President Grant, Capt. H. B. Clark, will reach Victoria about 8 Wednesday night, it was stated today by William M. Allan, general agent for the American Mail Line.

The Donaldson ship is posted to sail from New Westminster Wednesday for Puget Sound to complete, for London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

Went Aground in a Shipyard

If the 6,500-ton tanker Hagan, since refloated, had gone a little farther inland she would have been high and dry on the Elliott Bay waterfront at Seattle. As it was, half of the 416-foot ship was on the beach at low tide. The Hagan ran aground during a heavy fog, overturning two fish trawlers and doing other damage at the West Seattle shipyard, where it is pictured on the beach. W. G. Jordan, superintendent of the Pacific Salvage Company of Victoria, went over to Seattle to supervise the refloating of the tanker.

To "Parbuckle" Ship
Back to Even Keel

Cables Will Be Passed Under Beulah's Keel and Purchased to Right Her

On her beam ends, but afloat, the troublesome Beulah swung gently with the tide today, awaiting the next salvage move.

The next step will be to right the hull, and this will be accomplished, it is understood, by "parbuckling."

Dolphins will be driven on the starboard side of the vessel and cables will be passed under the keelson and secured to the bulkheads on the port side.

Purchase will then be put on the cables and by this means the Beulah will be righted, it is expected, without much difficulty.

When the vessel is on an even keel the pumping of the water out of the sealed hull will be proceeded with and precautions taken to keep her from again turning over.

A couple of days will probably elapse before the righting of the ship is attempted, although the assembling and driving of the piles will go right ahead.

No explanation is given for the temperamental action of the Beulah in turning over no her starboard side when she was being pumped out Saturday evening.

She was coming up nicely as the battery of pumps on the scow alongside frothed the water out of the hull.

HAWSEY SNAPPED
As in the first attempt the stern held fast. Then, suddenly, the six-inch manila cables that held her to the bollards snapped under the terrific strain and the vessel keeled right over on her side.

There were no divers aboard at the time and because of precautionary measures taken, no one was hurt.

The parting hawsers whipped the air like a knife, but luckily, out of reach of all observers. The tilted ship, sealed tight as she is, was afloat this morning, but securely moored.

Once she is righted, and her present buoyancy maintained it should be a less difficult job to raise her at the next attempt.

DISTURBED AT NIGHT?

A DIURETIC
stimulant such as Dr. Pierce's A-diuretic is often indicated and usually it is sufficient to relieve minor kidney irregularities. These A-diuretic tablets, prepared by Dr. Pierce and sold by druggists, are of value in relieving the burning and soreness, and the desire for frequent urination caused by or associated with excess acid, and they tend to ease the flow of urine. Read this: Ronald Spooner, 122 Brock St., Bradford, Ont., said: "In the morning I would be so stiff and sore that I could hardly stoop over to tie my shoes. Then again my kidneys gave me trouble, the secretions passed very often and burned in passage. I took Dr. Pierce's A-diuretic Tablets and was relieved of my misery." Price, 65 cents.

CRUISE LINER
SAILS FOR RIO

NEW YORK—The Empress of Australia sailed Saturday with a list of 400 on a 32-day trip to the West Indies and Rio de Janeiro.

The large cruise list and a vast throng of visitors made the departure at 10 a vigorous affair. Canadians made up a fair proportion of the list, the majority of them being from Quebec and Ontario.

Besides calling at Rio de Janeiro, the Empress of Australia will visit Bridgetown, Barbados, St. George's, Grenada, La Guaira, Venezuela and Kingston, Jamaica. She will return to New York February 17.

With triumphs over the youthful Jimmy Watt and Marjorie Hughes respectively, defending champions, George Lane and Joyce Thomson retained their Saanich badminton singles titles Saturday night in the finals played at the Brentwood sports hall.

Lane won his match after a lively three-set battle, while Miss Thomson took Miss Hughes in straight sets. Phyllis Sluggett and Jimmy Watt defeated Miss Thomson and Drenan Hincks, favorites in their section, to register an upset in the mixed doubles. The scores were 15-12, 15-9.

After some brilliant rallies, Lane captured the first set in his match with Watt, 17-16. He dropped the second session 15-7, but recovered in the third and final set to win 15-4. Miss Thomson had little trouble in taking Miss Hughes 11-4, 11-9.

Misses Muriel and Phyllis Sluggett annexed the women's doubles by defeating Misses M. Hughes and G. McCall, while Watt and Hincks defeated Tyrrell and Fish in the men's doubles.

Following the matches, J. E. Sladen, past president, extended thanks to the committee and the players. Prizes were presented by Mrs. M. Atkins, wife of the club president.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of cholagogue but have no cholagogue in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Queen Mary's Passengers
40 Per Cent Above Nearest Competitor

Cunard-White Star liner Queen Mary, which is now completing refit in dock at Southampton preparatory to resuming her Atlantic crossings, last year carried a record total of 56,850 passengers between British and French channel ports and New York.

The total carryings of the Queen Mary outdistanced her nearest competitor by 16,344 passengers, or 40.4 per cent more.

The impressiveness of the Queen Mary's record for the year is further emphasized by the fact that her 1937 carryings exceeded those of 1936 by 14,461.

"The Queen Mary's performance this year has more than met our expectations," said Harold P. Borer, general passenger manager of Cunard-White Star.

$1,000,000 Dredging Programme Necessary, Says Airport Manager

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Templeton, manager of the Vancouver Civic Airport, said establishment of Vancouver as the eastern terminus of Imperial Airways proposed trans-Pacific air route to the Antipodes would necessitate a $1,000,000 dredging programme at the Sea Island field.

Templeton was referring to a statement made by Frank Entwistle, head of the overseas division of the British air ministry's meteorological office, that unless present plans of Imperial Airways were "radically" changed Vancouver would be the Canadian base of the company's service.

Because the airline company's huge flying boats have 150-foot wing span and 10-foot draft, the dredging programme would have to be completed before the planes can be accommodated here, Templeton said.

He added special hangers, accommodation for large quantities of gasoline and big repair shops would also be needed but that these facilities would have to be furnished by the federal government and Imperial Airways.

Charge Lack Of
Ship Discipline

Masters of U.S. Ships No Longer Control Crews,
Commission Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for Committee for Industrial Organization Maritime Unions and a group of United States senators expressed conflicting views today concerning charges discipline had broken down aboard American merchant ships.

Ralph Emerson, legislative representative of the unions, issued a statement saying closed hearings of the senate commerce committee, at which witnesses made the charges, represented "attempts to scare Congress into passing coercive legislation for the seamen."

In another statement Chairman Copeland (Democrat, New York), of the commerce committee, said he was "convinced that there is no use in the United States government appropriating money for the building and operation of ships unless this matter of labor can be adjusted, unless we can have good seamen."

Emerson, C.I.O. Maritime Union spokesman, particularly criticized testimony of an unidentified ship captain, which the commerce committee made public Saturday.

Emerson charged the committee hearings had become an "out and out prosecution of American seamen—with even the most rudimentary rules of evidence thrown to the winds."

To bring about discipline, end incompetence and call back to seafaring a higher type of man, the unidentified captain suggested placing the entire American merchant marine personnel and the training of seamen under a division of the United States coastguard.

In his testimony, the captain said: "During the last two years I have seen discipline vanish entirely."

"Since the advent of present-day unions and their delegate system on the ships, the captain and officers are powerless."

"The officers being practically forced to join the same union as that of the unlicensed personnel, has given the union the power to charge and to try the officers whenever occasion demands that officers exert their authority, and their exertions do not meet the approval of the crew. This practice has destroyed all morale and is, in the main, responsible for the following dangerous conditions, which I have noted dur-

"I have seen lookouts aloft so drunk we were afraid to remove them from the crow's nest; for fear of falling down; men at the wheel so drunk they have turned the wheel the wrong way in their stupor; elevator boys that trap young girls in elevators between decks to make advances to them; waiters in the dining-room accosting young girls while eating; the presence of their fathers aboard not deterring them in the slightest way; waiters that preach unionism and communism to their passengers at meal-times; sailors that smoke wherever and whenever they work; sailors that smoke aloft and expectorate below without regard for the passengers, throwing their cigarettes into the wind with hats full of cotton."

"I have seen sailors that expectorate on the mirrors of their washroom merely to watch the saliva run down; engine room men that raise their clenched fist in a communistic salute during boat drill, while others say that the hammer and sickle will be flying from the staff in a couple of years; crews that want to put their captain on trial because they consider his discipline unnecessary; a master-at-arms while on night watch becoming drunk and familiar with female passengers on the open deck, entering into argument with passengers and assaulting them; barkeepers that, under the influence of liquor, knock on state room doors of refined elderly ladies and request admittance at night; crews that complain of too many boat drills; crews that demand privileges without responsibilities; crews that distribute communist literature throughout the ship."

"All these things have come to my personal knowledge and some of them I have seen with my own eyes."

Effective Window-dressing

FROM WELL INFORMED SOURCES comes the news that Japan does not take kindly to the idea that Great Britain and the United States have decided to put on a little "show" down at Singapore. On hand will be 10,000 British troops, 24 warships, scores of aircraft—including the latest high-power bombers—while the neighboring republic will join in the celebration, the most imposing of its kind held east of Suez in peace time, with at least three of her most modern cruisers.

This concentration of the latest types of war craft at the new British naval base is to be regarded as a part of the routine training of the British Navy. It will afford the personnel of the visiting vessels an opportunity also of seeing what the whole structure of this vast undertaking will look like when it is finished a few months hence. Work on the drydock, now complete, has been rushed recently and is available for service whenever it may be required.

The Japanese government and the press of Nippon generally do not like the plans for this little get-together of British and United States fighting forces at Singapore. Speaking editorially, the newspaper Yomiuri asked on Saturday, "If the celebrations are not an end in themselves, but have an ulterior motive as a naval demonstration, what must be the repercussion in the Far East?" Cautious United Kingdom newspapers do not admit that any demonstration against Japan is intended, but it will be a very dull Japanese mind that does not appreciate the fact that substantial forces soon will be assembled within steaming distance of Hongkong.

What is evidently worrying Japan more than anything else is that United States participation in the Singapore celebrations is a clear intimation to her War Lords—the dictatorial government of Nippon—that the two foremost democracies of the world are keeping a very close watch on everything that is "made in Tokio." Neither Britain nor the United States, of course, is looking for trouble. They are, however, telling Japan in terms which should be easily understandable that there is a limit to her programme of conquest in the Orient over which she may step only at her peril.

Free State Trade

TODAY IN LONDON MAY BE fraught with important consequences for Eire, formerly known as the Irish Free State. Prime Minister de Valera and several of his ministers are meeting Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and other members of the British cabinet. They are trying to iron out economic differences and to pave the way toward a better feeling between the two countries. The following figures tell the story of the former Free State's decline in commodity exchange with the world:

	Total Imports	Total Exports	Adverse Balance
1925	63,103,781	44,223,788	18,879,993
1926	60,930,672	41,258,676	19,671,996
1927	61,755,336	43,898,827	17,856,509
1928	59,772,984	46,038,922	13,734,062
1929	61,677,013	47,066,429	14,610,584
1930	56,958,642	45,643,562	11,315,076
1931	50,612,766	36,625,662	13,987,104
1932	44,060,190	27,581,430	16,478,760
1933	35,593,297	19,252,269	16,341,028
1934	38,853,811	17,973,789	20,880,022
1935	37,416,103	19,720,718	17,695,385
1936	39,418,239	22,351,718	17,066,521
1937	44,176,110	23,131,214	21,044,896

Not a little of this drop in trade, covering the years 1925 to 1937, inclusive, has been caused since the stoppage of payment by the Irish Free State of land annuities owing to the British Government. The conditions produced led to a tariff war, from which the Free State has suffered a great deal more than her neighbor.

Another Theological Point

A COMMISSION COMPOSED OF bishops and theologians representative of all schools of thought in England has submitted a report of an exhaustive survey which is reported to show that it accepts the Darwinian evolution theory—that it concedes the two creation narratives in Genesis are mythological and symbolical.

We shall expect that those men and women who have made a life study of the origin of species will now sharpen their pencils and let the press of the world have their views on the all-embracing subjects on which the Anglican Commission on Christian Doctrine—that is the name of the body whose labors are now finished—has been deliberating.

It is suggested, incidentally, that the belief in angels or demons is not irrational; but Christians are encouraged to suspend judgment on the point, or else to regard scriptural language about extra-mundane beings as symbolical. People who want to be good, of course, try to follow out David Harum's religion. He wanted to do unto others as he would like them to do unto him; but, as he said in Edward Noyes Westcott's pen picture of him, he believed in doing it "fast."

Economists say 1938 will be a good business year, but will start out slowly. Well, in most lines they have been right so far.

Britain and China

IN THE BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS the other day, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal leader, gave a good deal of information on British interests in Hongkong and Shanghai. He prefaced his main remarks with the statement that this interest in general was "no mere question of the profits of a few capitalist adventurers," but, on the contrary, "it touches the livelihood of thousands of our 'fellow-countrymen.'"

Britain's total trade with China for the first nine months of last year amounted to $12,000,000, excluding Hongkong and Manchuria, and the leased territories of China. British investments in China amount altogether to something like $240,000,000. Her invisible exports in the shape of interest on loans, earnings of shipping—40 per cent of the trade of China is carried in British ships—insurance, banking and profits of private firms with investments in real estate are enormous. There is in addition the trade of the ports of Shanghai and Hongkong.

These ports, incidentally, rank fifth and sixth among the ports of the world. There is not a port in Europe except Rotterdam, not one in Britain except London, not one on the continent of the United States except New York, and not one in Asia, except Kobe, which has a trade equal to the trade of Hongkong and Shanghai. All these sources yield important sums to the British Exchequer, and give employment to British workpeople.

Sir Archibald summed up his comments, in part, this way: "The loss of our interests in China would spell increased burdens for taxpayers, increased unemployment and lower standards of living for our people. Let us make no doubt about it. The respect that the militarists of Japan will show for British interests will be in direct ratio to our capacity and resolve to defend them."

Contemporary Heroes

WE OFTEN FEAR THAT OUR vaunted civilization has softened the race. It is pleasant when something like the episode of the recent rescue of 15 men who had spent 39 almost foolhardy days in the wilds of northern Ontario appears in the news to prove us wrong.

The saga of the Arctic holds no better example of courage than that of those 15 men, fighting death for weeks, maintaining strictest discipline while eating even the bones and entrails of the few animals they could kill. Rescued, fed and warmed, they were eager to go back and finish their surviving job.

And is the heroism of the rescuers any less because they accomplished their mission in airplanes instead of on snowshoes or dog sleds? They were in imminent risk of their lives every foot they flew over those frozen wastes where one slip meant death.

Yes, courage and heroism are still with us.

Unseen Tax Drain

A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN THE east has compiled a list of 47 days on which many business men will have tax matters to attend to in 1938. These days include the dates for returns and payments on income, property, sales, business, social service, and other taxes, and the returns accompanying them from the federal down through the governmental structure to the municipalities.

The list indicates one source of tax drains that never show up in the figures—the cost of paying them. Every firm of any size has had to hire men whose duty is exclusively to see that tax returns are filed and payments made.

Even individuals and small businesses must devote an increasing amount of their time to the mechanics of tax payment. In many cases the burden of computing the taxes is greater than the burden of payment.

Every possible simplification of this business of paying taxes is a real tax reduction without depriving the governmental bodies concerned of any needed revenue. For the time, energy and trouble spent in preparing returns, making reports, and actually making payments, is a dead loss all around, hampering the payer without adding to the amount received by government.

Notes

One of the Toronto "baby derby" contestants just had another child, after the contest is all over. Maybe the $500,000 had nothing to do with it, after all.

Japanese official contends China overestimated her strength. From the progress of the Japanese drive, compared with advance predictions, there apparently has been some underestimating, too.

CAR INSURANCE RATES

From Ottawa Journal

The Financial Post of Toronto understands automobile insurance rates in Canada are to be boosted by an average of about 11 per cent—more than that in some areas, less in others. Apparently all branches of this insurance are affected except fire and theft coverage.

This is just one of the ways in which the penalty of careless driving, the sort of driving that results in accidents, falls on drivers in general, good as well as bad. The motorist who never has been involved in an accident, who has carried insurance for years with never a claim, will have to pay more because the other fellow goes slam-bang along the roads without much regard for the public safety or property rights.

There can be no objection to higher rates, if the increases are proved to be necessary, provided some consideration is given those able to prove they have no responsibility for the conditions that make the advance necessary. It was stated recently that drivers with clear records were to be given some consideration in the matter of rates, and it is hoped the new tariff, when it comes, has this point in mind.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

CAS

A FRIEND of mine was telling me today that all this talk about the Japanese invading British Columbia has started his wife having nightmares at night. Her friends suffer from the same complaint. And over in Vancouver the yokelry of Granville Street and Shaughnessy have been horrified to hear that the St. John's Ambulance Association is importing a lot of gas masks and will shortly drill the public in their use against poison gas. In a few years, I suppose, gas mask drill will be part of the public school curriculum and we shall have bands of youngsters of six and seven marching the streets with miniature rifles, as in Italy and Germany, singing songs of hate.

Nothing breeds so fast as a war scare. Compared with it, love, which is supposed to be a pretty powerful human emotion, is slow. Why, three months ago the Canadian people hardly thought of war as applying to them at all, and anybody who talked about invasion of this coast was considered a harmless nut. Now that the Japanese have overrun China and sunk an American gunboat (which was conveying three American oil tankers and protecting American capital abroad), the whole public morale has changed.

Sound men get up and talk about the prospect of the Japanese coming over here at any moment (even though they are some what occupied in China and long since bankrupt, and Russia is all ready to swoop down on them when it gets ready), and women have nightmares, and gas masks are ordered and when the blasts boom out from the new fortifications by Race Rocks, people shudder, as if they were cannons.

NATURAL THING

TO DEFEND this coast is the most natural thing in the world. It is practically criminal on the part of all governments that we haven't done it long ago as far as we could afford it. But hysteria won't do any good. It won't do any good to say that the Americans can't or won't defend this coast, because it isn't true. This is as absurd as our failure up to now to do anything to defend ourselves.

It won't do any good for The Toronto Star to print the preposterous story that the United States is going to fortify the Canadian border because, apparently, it expects invaders to establish themselves here through our helplessness in Canada.

It won't do any good either for people to get excited because somebody says Canada and the United States are working out a joint defence programme—a report instantly denied by the Canadian government, which shows that the Canadian government in this matter must be as foolish as those who are attacking it; for how amusing it is that Canada and the United States should co-operate in saving our fisheries but not in saving our coastline, when the American fleet is, and must be, the chief defence for years to come. If no joint defence scheme is to be worked out, we had better save the money we are spending on forts and guns because without the United States they will be useless.

TAXES

IN FACT, such is the hysteria that seems to be generated by any defence talk, such the great air of mystery carefully maintained about it, that hardly any sense on the subject is talked. One thing that is never mentioned is the cost of defence. It is an intriguing thought that at this very moment we are building forts near here at enormous cost but we can't afford to build roads and a large part of our population lives in houses unfit for well-bred cattle.

As it has been wisely said, you can't live among lunatics as if you were living among sane men. In a mad world you have to be a little mad also if you are to survive. But you would have to be mad altogether if you couldn't see that Canada, rich and empty and thoroughly mismanaged by its present owners, is one of the glittering prizes of the world, much more attractive than crowded China or little Ethiopia or any of the colonies which we and other races are busy exploiting in the backward continents.

SPENT ALREADY

THE GREAT difficulty of Canada as it faces the problem of defending itself—now that it is clear Britain can never send a navy around here to defend us and shouldn't be expected to—is that we have already spent our money. We have spent it on what we thought was defence. We have spent two billions most of our national debt, on the last war; so that when people say this country won't spend money for military purposes they don't know what they're talking about.

We have spent so much on it and our debt is so heavy that the federal government has little over to spend on the next war, and we have no defences to show for our expenditure. For a small fraction of what we spent on our expeditionary forces in the last war we could arm ourselves to the teeth now and build a considerable navy. Indeed, we are perhaps the heaviest spenders on war for our size in the world; so heavy that if we get into another, our debt will have to be repudiated and our whole financial system, including life insurance, will collapse, as everybody knows.

So what we must make our minds up to is that if we are going to defend ourselves, and stop depending on our neighbors, we must pay for it and we had better get used to the idea now, but there is no use getting hysterical about it and having nightmares. There is no use deluding ourselves either that the present defence programme is adequate to protect us. It is only adequate to stop a few raiding ships, and that is all the Canadian government intends.

For a long time our only defence from invasion must be the United States Navy. But no patriot is supposed to mention it. A patriot is supposed to denounce any thought of co-operation with our defenders, and to condemn the Americans and their institutions as vigorously as possible. Happily, we have plenty of patriots about here.

Roosevelt Seen As Determined In Radical Course

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.

ROOSEVELT fully approved of the fire-eating speeches by Assistant Attorney-General Robert H. Jackson and Secretary of the Interior Ickes, which stirred the ire of Democrats and other conservatives.

The President, in his message to Congress, reiterated practically everything Jackson and Ickes had said—in a nice, polite way.

The first of these facts is known to the inner circle of presidential advisers and suspected by all acute observers. It ought to be obvious to everyone.

The second fact is plainly visible to anyone who lays the Jackson-Ickes speeches side by side with the presidential message. Nothing about the message has been more surprising than the extent to which commentators in Congress have missed or ignored this similarity—and even insisted that the opposite was true.

PULLS HIS PUNCHES

It may also seem surprising that the President and his friends should seek to cover up or blur these very essential facts and that the President, if he fully agrees with Jackson and Ickes as to monopolies, concentrated economic power and "strikes of capital" against the administration, should choose much softer words and fail to show similar belligerence.

But Roosevelt's words were much too strong for his more conservative advisers, whose influence at the White House is again on the wane, and even stronger than some of his liberal advisers were willing to counsel.

One influential group of liberals advised him he could not afford to "fight Wall Street openly" unless he could get from Congress the eight or 10 billion dollars which he was told would be required in such a struggle if the fight were to be successful. Wall Street was too powerful and wealthy to challenge, this group said.

"FIGHTING SPEECH" SOON

So the softer words were partly a compromise with that group. But they were also a prelude to Roosevelt's Jackson Day dinner speech, in which, his more left-winged advisers were told, the President would really come out in a "fighting speech" with some heavy emphasis on alleged similarity between his present position and that of Andrew Jackson in the latter's famous struggle with Nicholas Biddle and the Bank of the United States.

Above the President's desk in the Lincoln Study at the White House there has long hung a cluster of pictures of ships. A few days ago Roosevelt replaced the central picture with a portrait of John Paul Jones, in which the facial expression—as Roosevelt noted—is reminiscent of that old sea warrior's reply to a demand for surrender: "I have not yet begun to fight."

SAME TUNE—DIFFERENT KEY

In Congress, probably all this news is pleasant to the small groups of progressives only. Nevertheless, it appears to be the news.

If "selfish suspension of the employment of capital," which Roosevelt assailed, means anything different than "strike of capital," which Jackson and Ickes used and were accused of "imagining," one is hard pressed to explain how.

"Concentration of economic control to the detriment of the body politic," (quoting Roosevelt) was what Jackson and Ickes were talking about. Even references to controls by "a very small numerical group" and "a small group" were patterned faintly but designedly on the flamboyant attacks of Ickes on "the 60 Families."

Less demagogic, less specific, less reckless, nevertheless the voice of Roosevelt appears to be the voice of Jackson and Ickes, even though pitched in another key. Roosevelt wants co-operation with business, almost entirely on his own terms. As Congress draws nearer the primaries and elections he hopes it will pay less attention to his business opposition and more to him and his demands.

AGAINST THE WALL

From London Express

War only gets more horrible. In Spain they shot their fellow Spanish prisoners, both sides claiming that the other side were mere bandits. In China, the Japanese are shooting their Chinese prisoners, claiming probably that the Chinese are rebelling against the latest Japanese-owned "provisional government of North China." The Chinese could claim they are entitled to treat the Japanese as bandits since no war has been declared.

THAT BOND PRINTING ORDER

To the Editor:—The following is a copy of a letter sent to the Mayor and aldermen of the City of Victoria:

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Victoria—Gentlemen: As a property owner and ratepayer in the City of Victoria for more than a quarter century, and whose taxes have trebled in that time, I hereby protest with all the indignation at my command at the latest example of your administration in sending a large printing order to outside firms. More especially do I object to your latest impulsive action when I think of the sacrifices I and 100 more members of the local union of printers have endured this past five years by giving out a day's work every week to the unemployed members of our trade, thereby providing for their immediate needs and their dependents, and saving the taxpayers in general many hundreds of dollars—more than the difference between having the bonds printed in Victoria instead of in the east. And as for sending a man east to O.K. the bonds—why, that's a laugh, and I must say a very expensive laugh for the taxpayers of Victoria. Not even mentioning the $1,200 bonuses paid to two of the city employees recently!

E. T. CHANEY,
149 Medina Street.

PRINTERS AND BONDS
To the Editor:—When unemployment started the members of the International Typographical Union immediately came to the rescue of their fellow members and agreed that means would be found that those not working should get relief, each working member allowing so much from wages, and in other cases taking time off to allow the non-worker to gain his share. It was a splendid effort on their part, and an example to all men who have the interest of their fellows at heart.

Had this not been done, you, Mr. Taxpayer, would have had this added burden. We, as taxpayers, naturally feel that our representatives, the mayor and aldermen, would help this organization to still carry this good work on, and give it help when an opportunity arose for the printing of city bonds.

These worthy representatives, however, say no. We believe we can save a little on the printing of bonds. We can give one of our servants another trip. Let those printers down east get the job. Keep their men working.

What do you think of this, Mr. Taxpayer? Is this fair play to our own citizens and fellow-workers?

SERVICE CLUBS PLAN DINNER

Arrangements for Joint Function February 18 Made at Meeting

Members of Victoria's service clubs will be given an opportunity to make each other's acquaintance on February 18, when the Rotary, Kiwanis, Gyro, Revellers, Kinsmen, Soroptimists and Business and Professional Women's Clubs will hold a joint dinner and dance at the Empress Hotel.

The date and tentative plans for the event were arranged at a meeting of representatives of the seven organizations in the committee room of the Chamber of Commerce last night, under the auspices of the Victoria Service Clubs' Council. John Woodley was in the chair.

Under the present plans the dinner will start at 7.30 and will be followed by an address by a prominent speaker, a floor show and an informal dance.

It is expected some 300 members and their friends will attend the function. Committees headed by Harold Butters and A. D. King were named last night to make the necessary preparations.

New B.C. Maps Made Available

Containing a mass of new detail about the province, a new issue of single sheet maps of British Columbia has been completed, Major G. G. Aitken, chief geographer, said today.

The new maps list progress of the province since 1923 when the last issue was made.

Where the old maps gave only a list of post offices and distances between principal points, the new ones give this information and lists of government agencies, mining offices, land recording and registry offices, assessment and collection offices, supreme and county court seats, consulates, radio stations, forest districts, customs and excise offices, licensed airports and intermediate airfields. Population of principal centres is also given.

JERSEY HEAD IS RETURNED

Ian Douglas Again Elected President of Saanich Cattle Club

Ian Douglas, Mount Newton Jersey breeder, was re-elected president at the annual general meeting of the Saanich Jersey Cattle Club which was held recently.

A. W. Aylard was elected vice-president, and E. H. Lee was returned as secretary-treasurer. J. S. Braidwood was appointed auditor.

Directors elected include H. E. Burbidge, Captain C. F. Gibson, Major A. D. Macdonald, George Malcolm, Gavin Weir and E. W. Burkinshaw.

Reports for the year were presented by the officers. Membership continued about the same as last year, though attendance had been falling off, the president said.

Members, with few exceptions, had done no showing at major fairs, but had turned out well at Saanichton. Much energy had been put into the activities of the junior clubs, he said.

The year had been improved for Jersey breeders generally with a better export market to China and the United States and more settled conditions generally.

During the meeting there was some discussion on the draft of a proposed bill to license and control breeders of purebred dairy cattle.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

JANUARY 17, 1913
(From The Times Files)

Every reserved seat in the arena for tonight's game was sold out by 10 this morning. With a crowd, that is the greatest support of a home team ever, the Victoria Senators look to have the edge on the Vancouver Millionaires. A special car service will be provided while Rowland's band will be on hand to entertain the fans during intermissions.

The Victoria Bees will have a fine chance to make good in baseball during the coming summer. Not only has the league executive given the local club 65 home games, but the dates themselves are very choice and a big year in baseball may be looked for.

Victoria audiences seldom have the enjoyment of seeing such a play as "The Return of Peter Grimm," which was given before a crowded house last evening at the Victoria Theatre. The mere fact David Warfield was playing, proved sufficient to fill every seat in the house.

Two of the four Japanese immigrants who escaped from the immigration house at the outer wharf yesterday, are still at large. Detective Turner and Constable Cremer captured the other two this morning.

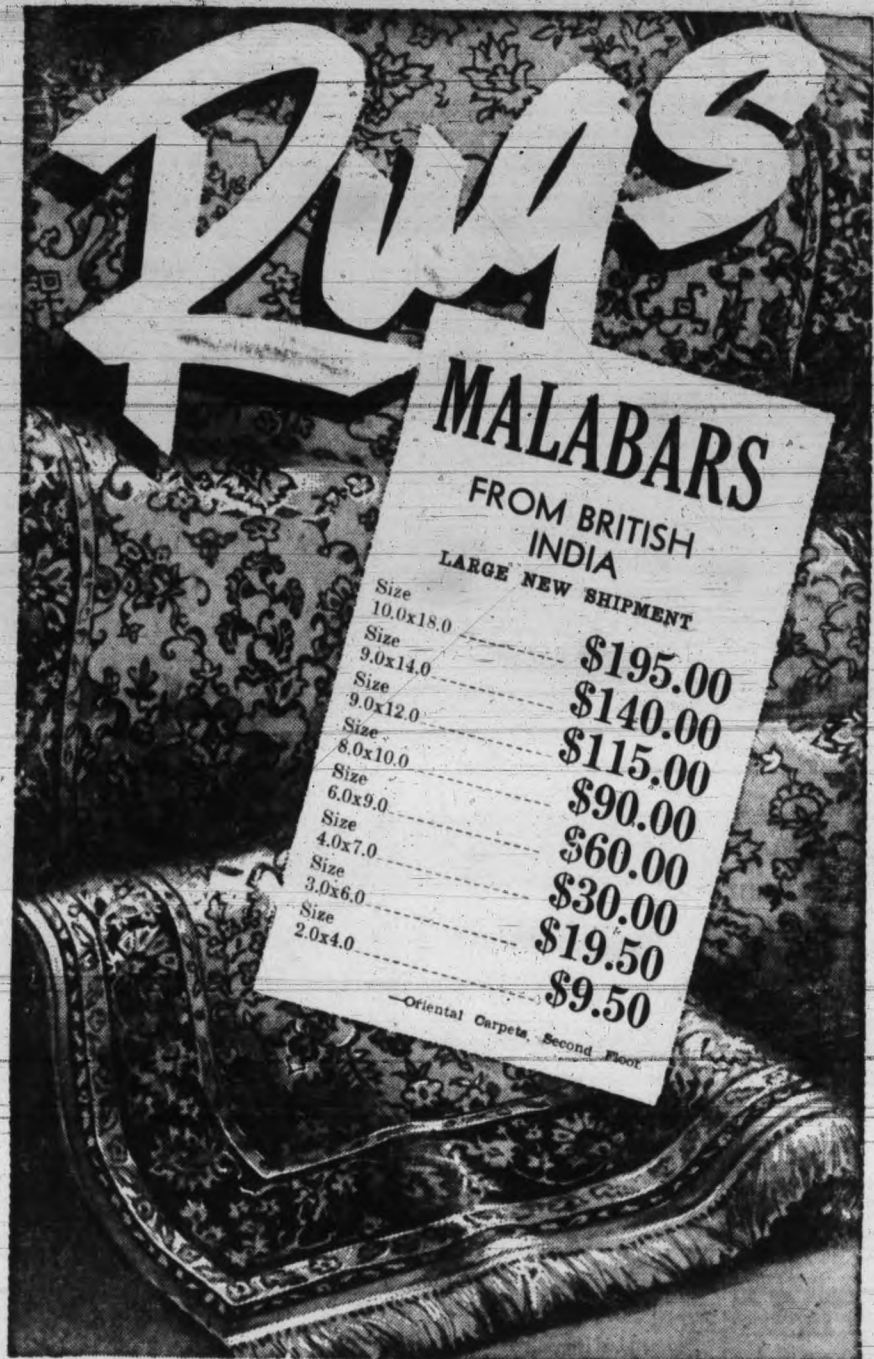

Announcement was made this morning that the C.P.R. steamer Princess Mary is to be lengthened 40 feet. The work will be carried out at the yards of the B.C. Marine Railways at Esquimalt. The Princess Mary will be docked and cut in two, then the sections will be hauled apart 40 feet and the new section built in.

The First Royal Oak Girl Guides enjoyed their weekly meeting at the home of their captain, Mrs. E. H. Street, Beckwith Avenue, Thursday afternoon.

Columnist Addresses Club

Bruce Hutchison Is Guest At Soroptimist Dinner

The tendency in Canada to divide and localize contrasted strongly with the sense of partnership and of joint ownership of the feeling of permanency and stability in Great Britain, and is one of the dangerous aspects of Canadian life.

It was one of the interesting observations made by Mr. Bruce Hutchison, columnist of The Times, in his interesting address at the installation dinner of the Victoria Soroptimist Club, held at the Empress Hotel on Saturday evening. The speaker took as his subject his recent sojourn in Europe, touching upon some of the characteristics of the various countries and peoples visited.

Alluding to the English attitude towards life, Mr. Hutchison expressed the opinion that they have learned how to live together, conscious of the trust which they will hand on to their children. It was time that Canada realized that she, too, had grown up, but lacked a sense of unity, of joint ownership, and had a joint trust to hand on to posterity.

He spoke of conditions in France, Germany, Austria, Hungary and Italy, and the conditions prevailing. The speaker was impressed by the beauty and orderliness of the cities of Europe, deploring the lack of foresight in Canada in planning our cities. On the other hand, while life in Europe had much to commend it, life in Canada had many compensations and Canadians enjoyed, among many blessings, a spaciousness and personal liberty which was lacking in many European countries.

TOASTS HONORED

Miss Dora Atkins, the president, was in the chair, and Mrs. F. Mutrie tendered the thanks of the gathering to the speaker. Mrs. A. O. Robinson was toastmistress, and after the toast to the King, proposed that to the guests, which was responded to by John Woodley, president of the Service Clubs Council, and T. J. Goodlake, president of the Rotary Club.

Mrs. Anna Sprott and Mrs. M. E. Crehan brought greetings from the mainland, and Miss Una Calvert played two piano selections, Chopin's "Etude in C Minor" and "May Night" (Palmgren).

Mrs. Patricia Curtis, regional director of Soroptimist Clubs, installed the new officers as follows: President, Miss Dora Atkins (re-elected); first vice-president, Mrs. A. O. Robinson; second vice-president, Miss Doris Holmes; recording secretary, Mrs. S. Clarke; treasurer, Mrs. P. Greenslade; corresponding secretary, Miss Marjorie Holmes; directors, Miss Lynn-Mess, Miss Mary Holmes, Miss Nettie Foxall, Mrs. H. T. Mallek, Mrs. S. McMartin and Mrs. F. Mutrie.

Miss Doris Holmes was responsible for the attractive table decorations. Yellow chrysanthemums and glided leaves on which were placed lighted blue tapers, and place cards tied with blue and gold ribbons, reflected the club colors of blue and gold.

Overseas Nurses Active

Mrs. Leo O'Leary Agains Heads Ex-Sisters' Branch

Mrs. Leo O'Leary was re-elected by acclamation as president of the Nursing Sisters' branch of the Canadian Legion, at the annual meeting held on Saturday afternoon. Miss Alice Williams was chosen vice-president; Mrs. K. Ethel Gray, secretary; Mrs. R. Hogarth, convener of social committee; Miss McBride, social service, and Miss Jean Kay, sick-visiting committee.

Mrs. O'Leary reviewed the branch's activities since its organization in October, 1936, and in conclusion urged members to report immediately any case of need among former nursing sisters or their immediate families.

"For in this particular branch of the legion we feel that we should help one another in the true sisterly sense, united as we are by that mystical bond that only nurses can share; dedicated to the unselfish service of God and humanity as we are by the very nature of our calling," she said.

A hearty vote of thanks and appreciation was tendered Miss O'Leary for her efforts on behalf of the ex-sisters.

The gathering stood in silent tribute to former comrades, including two members who had passed on during the year.

The reports presented recorded a substantial sum made by the successful bridge, held at St. Joseph's Nursing Home, through kind permission of Sister Superior. Plans were discussed for a similar entertainment in the spring. The treasurer also noted financial aid given to needy cases.

A resolution introduced and endorsed at the provincial convention of the Canadian Legion, which affects ex-nursing sisters only, was discussed, and it was hoped this would be brought before the Parliament in Ottawa during the coming session.

Appreciation was expressed to Miss Jean Kay, ex-president of Overseas Sisters' Club, for her guidance in the formation of this Nursing Sisters' Branch of the Canadian Legion. Mrs. R. Hogarth, president of the Overseas Sisters' Club, reported on plans for a dinner to be held shortly in David Spencer Limited, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Smellie, superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada.

WITH the 14-club regulation we have been wondering what sticks will be used in tournament golf? Many factors will determine the type and number of clubs tournament players will employ. The skill of the player will be one. The type of the course will be another. Weather conditions may prove a third. What the big shots are likely to do is to get to the scene of a tournament ahead of time, play a few practice rounds with all their clubs, and determine from these preliminary tours the type and number of clubs necessary.

Stars who are at present engaged in the winter golf trail in California and most other good players already have very definite ideas on the clubs they will use. Many will carry the Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 woods, all of the graduated irons from No. 2 through to No. 9, and a putter, making 13. They figure to do without a sand blaster, a chipper and the No. 1 iron. Others want the blaster and chipper in the bag, along with the same series of irons, but will discard a brassie. They plan on three woods, the driver, spoon and No. 4 wood.

Others figure on four woods, the irons from No. 2 to 9, inclusive, and a putter and blaster. Still others plan to get along without the blaster, but will carry a chipper, with the same woods and irons.

Sam Parks, 1935 United States open champion, has a somewhat different idea than the others. He figures to get along without a No. 3 wood, keeping the driver, brassie and No. 4 wood. He will discard his No. 3 iron, keeping Nos. 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, along with the putter, blaster and chipper.

From what the leading players say, the most commonly used clubs will be four woods, eight irons without a No. 1, the putter and blaster. Many figure to use the niblick just as effectively as the blaster in traps. The shot will demand more attention with the niblick, for the heavy blaster does the work even while permitting careless handling. Mighty few, if any, believe the 14-club maximum will curtail scoring.

It is suspected, however, that some of the oldtimers, notably Bobby Cruickshank, Tommy Armour, Francis Ouimet, Chick Evans, Macdonald-Smith, Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell and Willie Macfarlane at first will show greater skill with few clubs than such youngsters as Byron Nelson, Jug McSpaden, Vic Ghezzi, Dick Metz, Jimmy Hines and some more. The kids will catch on quickly. Indeed, Sam Snead has caught on already.

There is likely to be a greater variety of shots with just a few clubs. There will be more hitting with the head and hands, and less with the club. Oldtimers got all kinds of shots out of the mashie, but those more recently were ordinarily played with the 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 irons, and such other clubs as chippers, runner-uppers and blasters.

In recent years tournament stars frequently carried from 18 to 26 clubs. In this number, they would have two or three drivers with varying slants to the faces of the clubs, two or three types of putters, a left-handed club or two for trouble shooting, and an assortment of jiggers, chippers and blasters.

CHICAGO (CP)—Toronto

Maple Leafs tightened their lead on the National Hockey League's Canadian section last night, defeating the Chicago Black Hawks 7 to 2 before 15,561 fans, largest crowd to see a game here in three seasons. The Leafs scored five times in the final period.

The Hawks, making a battle of it all the way, took the lead in the opening period on a goal by Mush March. About five minutes later, Pep Kelly tied the count with the help of Buzz Boll, and the Leafs went into the lead in the second period on a shot by Syl Apps, after Drillon's drive and the resultant rebound had given him the chance to poke the puck home as Goalie Mike Karakas of the Hawks lay on the ice.

Bill Thoms scored the third Leaf goal early in the third period, driving a long shot home from just inside the blue line. Kelly, who skated and shot well all night, got his second goal late in the third stanza, breaking away all alone, pulling Karakas out and slamming the puck into the twine netting. Kelly's first goal, in the opening period, came with a team mate, Chamberlain, in the penalty box for slashing Jenkins, Hawk wing.

Seconds later, Kelly scored again, on a pass from Hamilton, after which, the Hawks repeatedly caught down the ice, Apps and Jackson poured goals into the net. March, meanwhile, scored the second Chicago goal with the help of Dahlstrom and Romnes.

NEW YORK — New York Rangers scored two goals in the second period and then tacked on two more in the third as they coasted last night to a 4 to 0 win over New York Americans in an intracity National Hockey League game.

The paid attendance was more than 16,000.

Victory gave the Rangers possession of the W. J. MacBeth Memorial Trophy, emblematic of New York City's professional hockey championship. The Rangers had previously beaten the Americans twice this season and tied them once. They have a six-game series.

Davey Kerr, Rangers' veteran goalminder, hung up his seventh shutout of the season to lead the league netminders in this department.

Rangers notched the first marker halfway through the second period when defenceman Art Coulter backhanded the puck into the American cage during a scramble. Clint Smith stick-handled through the whole American squad to give the blue shirts a two-goal margin with less than two minutes of the chapter to go.

Alex Shibicky and Neil Colville clinched the game for Rangers by scoring on three-man breakaways in the last period.

DETROIT — The downtrodden Detroit Red Wings and lowly Montreal Maroons battled to a 1 to 1 overtime tie in a National Hockey League game before 8,000 spectators here last night, their second deadlock in as many nights.

Herbie Lewis put Detroit in the lead after six minutes of the first period, climaxing a speedy rush that Doug Young started, with Hec Kilrea centring out the final pass. Maroons evened the count three and a half minutes later, as Dave Trotter blazed from an

THISTLES AND WESTS VICTORS

Register Wins in First Division Football Engagements

Victoria West, declared winners

Two weeks ago, wound up the first half schedule of the Victoria and District Football League with a 6 to 3 victory over Esquimalt at the Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. It marked the seventh straight victory for the green-shirts in league competition. They finished with a scoring record of 32 goals for and 12 against.

In the second match Saturday the Saanich Thistles nosed out the Garrison 1 to 0 at Heywood Avenue to finish in a second-place tie with Victoria City.

Two goals by young Harold Sage at the seven and 30-minute stages gave the Wests a two-goal lead in the first half against Esquimalt. The period saw the Wests hold the upper hand with Esquimalt hard pressed to keep the green-shirts from piling through for additional counters.

Early in the second half Esquimalt got a goal, Nip Sage converting a penalty awarded against Roy Barnes. The Wests forced play and John Watt took a cross from Morgan to make it 3 to 1. The dockers rallied and before the Wests settled down again had tied the score on goals by Smith and Barnswell.

Determined to keep their record clean the Wests went to work and before the final whistle converted three goals, Noel Morgan getting two and Roy Okell the other.

J. C. Dowds refereed.

The teams followed: Esquimalt—Chalmers, Stewart, Laird, Holt, Cooper, N. Sage, Smith, J. Stewart, Barnswell, Joe Watt and English.

Victoria West—T. Restell, J. Okell, B. Bell, Lorandini, R. Barnes, C. Restell, R. Okell, H. Sage, John Watt, Morgan, Brown and G. Barnes.

McCaig's goal with only four minutes of play remaining gave the Saanich Thistles a victory over the Garrison at Heywood Avenue.

Both elevens tried hard and the match was hard fought but the calibre of football was nothing to write home about. The tackling and defensive tactics on each side were robust and this was about the only feature of the match that gave the spectators any excitement.

In each half the clubs had numerous chances to score but the forwards were weak in front

LONDON — R. Westwood, Bolton Wanderers' international inside forward, led the ace snipers of the major divisions of the English Football League with 20 goals, following Saturday's games. He was two up on D. McCulloch of Brentford.

Art Black of Hearts brought his total to 27 to lead the major Scottish divisions.

Just Beats Deadline

Several farms claim the first thoroughbred foal of the year. The one above arrived at the Charles E. Cooper Rancho San Luis Rey in southern California shortly after midnight, January 1. Had the colt been born a few hours earlier it already would be considered a year old since January 1 is the recognized birthday of all race horses. The dam, Yerna C, is blind, so a tiny belt was placed on the colt's neck. This enables the mare to know the whereabouts of her baby. The young woman is Vera Jeffrey.

ACTIVE SEASON FOR POLO CLUB

Many Games Planned For This Season; Change Name of Organization

At the annual meeting held recently in the home of J. G. Hazlewood, treasurer, members of the Centaurs Polo Club decided to change the name of the organization to the Victoria Polo Club.

An active season is being planned by the members. There will be several games against Esquimalt and up-land teams and it is possible that other matches will be arranged against mainland and Seattle squads. An increase in the membership was reported.

The complete slate of officers follows: Honorary president, H. J. Fisher; honorary vice-presidents, Commander C. H. R. Slingsby, Brigadier D. J. MacDonald, Colonel H. C. Greer, John Christie and Norman A. Yarrow; captain, G. D. Tyson; vice-captain, G. Edgelow; secretary, N. Van Der Vliet; treasurer, J. G. Hazlewood.

MIAMI BEACH — Bobby Riggs of Chicago won the nautilus tennis tournament yesterday by defeating Wayne Sabin of Hollywood, Cal., 7-5, 8-6, 6-1.

Victoria Olympic Coach Named Vice-president of B.C. Association

VANCOUVER — Dave Snirley of Vancouver was elected president of the British Columbia Amateur Track and Field Association at its seventh annual meeting here Saturday night. He succeeded John Muter, of Vancouver, head of the organization since its beginning.

Others elected were Archie McKinnon, Victoria, first vice-president; J. A. Lundie, Powell River, second vice-president; R. C. Thomas, Vancouver, honorary secretary; L. Osborne, Vancouver, honorary treasurer.

W. Martin, Victoria, M. N. Limon, Vancouver; J. O. St. Denis, Trail; Col. H. Logan, Cowichan Station, Vancouver Island, and M. N. Porter, Nelson, were chosen to complete the executive council.

No resolutions were passed at the meeting, but an amendment to the constitution was approved, allowing the past president, John Muter, a seat on the executive council.

Considerable discussion took place over the matter of arranging the details of the western Canada track and field championships here July 1 and the lower mainland championships in Powell River on the same date. A committee of three was appointed to take charge of the arrangements.

Sportsmen To Elect Officers

Matters of utmost importance to hunters will be brought up at the annual general meeting of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association, to be held in the form of a supper meeting Thursday night in the Douglas Cafe, at 6.30.

It is reported that the matters to be discussed include the closing of that area between Albert Head and the Quarantine Station as a migratory bird sanctuary and the proposed action of closing the Metchosin district to hunters on Sundays. Election of officers will be held.

JOHNSTON AND SHADOW WIN

These new-fangled ideas that crop up in the wrestling game every so often are generally pretty fair box office attractions, but the local fans who attended the show at the Empire Theatre Saturday night could not work up any enthusiasm over the new team affair. It was a failure.

The Red Shadow and Dave Johnston team won the match, which was practically a grand mix-up and depicted very little wrestling, by the odd rule route. They met Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian, and Ted Keys, Los Angeles. Two referees handled the match.

Abe Yourist, New York, lost to Rusty Westcott, Honolulu, in the special event by the odd fall. Ken Pears won from Jimmy Casey in the preliminary.

Vancouver Pros Fail to Finish in Money in Movie Star's Golf Event

DELMAR — Sam Snead walked away with the $3,000 Bing Crosby golf tournament yesterday for the second straight year.

The long hitter from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., hung up a 36-hole score of 139 and set a new course record of 67 on his final round, five under par, to pocket most of the money put up by movie actor Crosby.

Snead won the $500 first place prize money in the professional competition, and paired with Doug McKinnon of Los Angeles to take second place money of $225 in the pro-amateur battle.

Art Bell of Pasadena, and Phil Finley of Redlands, Calif., won first place in the pro-amateur event with a total score of 67-134, a stroke in front of the Snead-McKinnon combination.

Freddy Wood, only one of three Canadians from Vancouver, B.C., to turn in a card, was far down the list with 80-82-162.

His fellow townsman, Stan Leonard, failed to finish his final round by dark and the third, Ben Calk, did not turn in a card.

HINES SECOND PRO

Two strokes back of Snead in the pro event was Jimmy Hines, Garden City, N.Y., while Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex., finished with 142. Hines won $350 and Demaret $250.

A crowd of 4,000 turned out as the weather, after starting the tournament off dimly yesterday, turned clear and bright.

Crosby and his pro-partner, Harold Sampson, San Francisco, shot 71-73-144, and another film celebrity, veteran Guy Kibbee, paired with Harry Bassler, Long Beach, took 80-77-157. Leading man George Murphy and John Bula, Chicago, shot 70-74-144, and Johnny (Tarzan) Weissmuller and (Turn to Page 14, Col. 8)

Tombs of Holy Bulls

After motoring close to 20 miles southward from Cairo, I reached a place where I saw one of the strangest sights in all my travels. Going down some wide stone steps, I entered a great underground passage, with space on either side of it for the bodies of animals—holy bulls!

"This coffin," said my dragoman, "was empty when found in modern times. Several thousand years ago, a holy bull was buried in it. Just what treasures were placed inside with the bull, we cannot say, but they must have been of great value. At a later time, robbers broke into the tomb and took the treasures away."

What a task the robbers must have had! The stone lid, which was pried open, must weigh 14 or 15 tons. The total weight of the red granite coffin is figured to be 65 tons.

In other chambers I saw coffins of equal size, some of red and some of black granite. In one case, the coffin was not nearly so large as in the others. It was used for the burial of a baby bull!

The underground tunnels in this place have a total length of a little more than a fifth of a mile, and 24 bull coffins have been found in them. All the coffins were robbed before being seen by scientists, but one coffin still contained the bull's mummy and a few treasures. The robbers who left part of the treasure behind must have been frightened by something, and must have feared to go back again.

The worship of bulls did not last all through the ancient history of Egypt. There were times, however, when it was very important. An ancient Greek visitor to Egypt left us this note about bull worship, or "Apis worship," as it was called:

"The Apis is the calf of a cow upon which the Egyptians say lightning has come down from heaven. This calf has a square spot of white on the forehead. It has a figure of an eagle on its back, and its tongue contains the outline of a beetle."

The markings on the holy bull were supposed to be proof that it was a godly being. No doubt they were placed there by the Egyptian priests.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

TUESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1938

Astrologers read in the horoscope for today the promise of good news affecting many Americans. There are, however, contrasting aspects of evil portents.

This is an auspicious date for signing contracts or agreements of any sort. The planetary influences encourage what has been tested legally.

Writers will profit greatly and correspondents for newspapers and magazines will gain fame in 1938, when there will be a great deal of news to chronicle.

Publishers will prosper as readers multiply. The radio is to be subjected to changed methods of broadcasting, which will be fortunate for the thinking public.

Important conferences with British statesmen are planned for New York and Washington. Closer diplomatic relations are indicated.

American diplomats continue under planetary influences which test their ability. Serious matters are forecast in a delicate international problem, centering in Washington.

Social matters will be of extraordinary interest all through the winter. Girls may meet all through the winter. Girls may meet all through the winter.

Extravagant expenditures by persons who occupy places in the sun should not be initiated by persons of average wealth. Revolutionary influences, long dormant or buried in secret may be awakened as the spring approaches. The wise will be loyal to democratic ideals.

Persons whose birthdate is 1 have the security of a year of many surprising experiences.

There's No Freedom After Marriage Dorothy Dix

TWO YOUNG people who are engaged have been telling me that they have solved the problem of how to make marriage a success. It is for the husband and wife to be as free after marriage as they were before, and so they have made a solemn agreement not to interfere in any way with each other's personal liberty.

Great idea, I replied, if it will work. Nobody will deny that one of the main drawbacks to matrimony is that it cramps one's style. No matter how much the fetters are gilded, they still hold one down; and so if you have found some way of eliminating the ball-and-chain motif in the wedding march you will certainly deserve well of your fellow creatures. But inasmuch as one cannot be both bound and free at the same time, it will take a bit of doing, as our English friends say, to be both married and single and make a go of it.

It sounds very broad-minded, modern and intriguing to talk about a husband and wife leaving each other free to do as they please after marriage, but the thing isn't possible. It can't be done. Marriage isn't freedom. It is slavery. A happy and voluntary bondage, generally, in which the slaves hug their chains, but all the same they are bound and tied, subject to each other's wills and whims, peculiarities and prejudices, and they have no more individual liberty than a pet poodle on a leash.

No married man and woman can live the untrammelled life after marriage that they did before. There is no use in you fooling yourself into thinking that you can. Marriage interferes with your tastes and habits at every turn. You will find that you can't even eat what you like, or read in bed, or have your old friends around you if your husband or your wife likes a different style of cooking, or can't sleep with a light on, or can't see why you want to have that frowsy Smith man always hanging around and drinking up the expensive Scotch, or what you see in that silly, affected Jones woman, even if you did go to school with her.

This bondage of husband wife to each other goes all through marriage. Before marriage, son, you are free to spend your money on yourself, but after you are married you will find that every dollar of it belongs to your wife and children and the support of your home. Before marriage you were free to stay down town of a night, play poker, eat any old time and roll in with the milkman, but after marriage you will have to punch the home timeclock on the dot and be prompt for the dinner your wife has spent hours in cooking for you, or else.

And you will find out, daughter, that the money you were free to spend on beauty treatments and fine clothes has to go for shoes for little Mary and sweaters for Bobby; that you can't spend your afternoons at the movies or in bridge games; that you are tied down by babies and housework and about the only freedom you have is the freedom to work 14 hours a day.

As for husbands and wives giving each other freedom to play around with other men and women and have affairs with them, that freedom invariably ends in the divorce court. Human nature can't stand it. The man who loves his wife cannot endure seeing her philandering with another man. The thought that she is betraying him and tarnishing his honor burns him up. The woman who loves her husband and sees him making love to another woman eats her heart out in jealousy. If, son, you think that you and Mary are going to be any exception to this rule, you are making the mistake of your life. We are all monopolists when it comes to our own husbands and wives, and don't want to share them with anyone.

Those who crave freedom should never marry, for the very essence of marriage is the sense we have of belonging to someone we love, and of the one we love belonging to us. A glorious slavery. The only free people are those who care for nobody but themselves, and for whom no other human being cares.

It appeared Miss Ferguson had been cleaning the tub with the taps running when she was overcome by a fainting spell. The upper part of her body fell in the tub and she was drowned as an old cloth mat stopped the drain.

FILM CLASSIC

IS HELD OVER

"Stella Dallas" Continues

Run at Plaza Theatre

Although Barbara Stanwyck

first expressed her theatrical yearnings at the age of eight by dancing at benefits and concerts, and at 16 had made her professional debut as a dancer at the Strand Cabaret on Broadway, it was her acting ability that first commanded attention.

Her ability as an actress was soon recognized by such stage producers as Ziegfeld, Willard

Mack and Arthur Hopkins, and the lead in "The Noose" and

"Burlesque" supplanted the dancing.

A succession of starring roles in pictures followed, and her outstanding performances in numerous screen hits inevitably lead to her selection by Samuel Goldwyn for the title role in his emotional classic, "Stella Dallas," in which she is appearing at the Plaza

Theatre.

So popular is "Stella Dallas" with Victoria audiences that the management has made arrangements to continue the picture

almost impossible angle at right

Lewis and Paul Runge started a little bumping and the rumpus spread to involve Hec Kilrea and Allan Shields. Each did a two-minute sentence.

BOSTON—Young Art Jackson

fired a third-period goal last night, and Boston Bruins rode through on it to a 1-0 victory over Montreal Canadiens, the first victory of the National Hockey League season over the Frenchmen.

Windsor, Ontario,
Publisher Dies

W. F. Herman Succumbs in Los Angeles Following Operation

LOS ANGELES (CP)—W. F. Herman, publisher of The Windsor Daily Star, died here late Saturday night following a major operation.

The Windsor newspaper owner came to southern California in the middle of December to spend the winter. He was taken ill shortly after he reached Los Angeles, entered a hospital New Year's Day and was operated on January 3. After showing signs of recovering, he suffered a relapse which slowly took away his strength.

With Mr. Herman at the time of his death were Mrs. Herman, and H. A. Graybiel and W. L. Clark of The Windsor Star.

Mrs. Herman was Miss Adie Knox of Riversdale, near Pinehurst, Nova Scotia. They were married in Boston, where he had gone to seek employment. Their daughter Ruth, their only child, was born there. Throughout his life, Mrs. Herman was constantly at his side, and he always consulted her and sought her advice on questions of importance. The funeral will be held in Saskatoon Friday, with burial in the family plot, where lie the remains of Ruth Herman, who died in 1920.

TRAFFIC DEATH IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—One man was killed and four others were taken to hospitals with injuries suffered in traffic accidents here Sunday night.

Robert Myroie, 50, died in a hospital less than half an hour after he had been struck at a downtown intersection by an automobile, the driver of which failed to stop.

Don Daley suffered a possible fracture of the skull and Joseph McGill minor injuries when their car collided head-on with a street car a short distance from the Myroie accident. Daley's condition was reported as "fair."

People Lack Usual Newspaper Service While Printers on Strike

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Mankind's age-old craving to know what the Joneses did last night sought satisfaction in backfence gossip and radio broadcasts today as Portland went through its first day devoid of regularly printed news.

Three daily newspapers, closed Saturday when 245 members of the Multnomah Typographical Union walked out on strike, remained down although thin Sunday papers, set in advance, were sold. Publishers and union representatives, while still meeting, appeared prepared to enter an endurance contest.

Telephone calls, demanding to know when publication would be resumed, flooded switchboards at The Oregon Journal, Portland Oregonian and News-Telegram.

With reporters off duty, no local news was available. Housewives, without shopping advertisements, stayed at home or wandered through stores looking for bargains that might be there and might not.

Hundreds tramped streets looking at theatre facades to learn the names of current productions.

Lower Trend Today

NEW YORK (AP)—A drifting stock market today canceled part of its recent advance.

While aircraft and a few specialties attempted to contest the trend, weakness of utilities spread to other divisions and losses running to two or more points were widely distributed in the final hour. Extreme setbacks were reduced in some cases just before the close.

News, on the whole, appeared mildly better marketwise and brokers attributed the ragged market picture principally to the cashing-in of profits by day-to-day traders.

Steels dipped with the rest, although current mill operations were officially estimated at 29.8 per cent of capacity, an increase of two points over last week and the third successive upturn in the lengthy decline.

There was some revival of nervousness over the thus far futile struggles of the French to organize a cabinet, but the franc moved up in terms of the dollar.

Transfers were around 1,000,000 shares.

November net income statements of railroads now coming to hand made poor carrying in the boardrooms, but readers were no worse than other stocks. The belief was growing an early decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the roads' plea for higher freight charges was likely.

Bonds stumbled and commodities were uneven.
